WEST SIDE PARK, CHICAGO, May 14.—The Orphans and White Sox are dividing the patronage today, but the attendance here was not affected by the conflict of dates. The weather was right for another sensational tussle between the League clubs.
Conzoletto, the right fielder of the Orphans, got a telegram last night stating that his wife was at death's door. He went home immediately, leaving a sick note in Chicago's outer garden. This note was placed on the morning when another grasshopper loomed up on the baseball horizon.
The St. Louis Browns reached here this morning, putting up at the Victoria with the Trolley Dodgers. Manager McAlleer had a tale of woe to unfold. Davy Jones, the St. Louis right fielder, was missing, and McAlleer said with tears in his voice that his young player had flown to the Chicago National. Col. Hart had flashed a big red coin in Davy's countenance and the youngster fell. He was out on the lot in uniform.

they had partaken plentifully of tobacco smoke or some other singular preparation. They worked faster than a sheet of flame in an oil refinery, and it was a hard matter to pick the winner.
Every fellow whose business it is to pitch was out doubling himself into a knot, and then from some place letting the ball shoot out. Christy Mathewson, Frank Spinks, Bill Kennedy and Lottor Taylor were the ones who showed well. All looked as fit as a world's champion pugilist before a contest.
Kennedy in Fine Shape.
If Ned Hanlon could have seen Bill Kennedy at work he would have probably realized the error he made when he told William to seek a job elsewhere than in Brooklyn. Bill has the same old speed that made him famous years ago, and without exaggeration is the best conditioned pitcher on the Giants team today. But he could not be asked to work this afternoon, having pitched on Monday, so the task devolved down to Taylor and Spinks, and the former looked the favorite.
O'Neill and Papp were the pair of twirlers on whom Patsy Donovan was banking. The former with his left swings was very fine in practice, but Patsy as usual made no decision until 3:20 o'clock, one minute before the game began.
First Inning.
Van singled to right. Smith doubled to center. Lander's hit, but Van scored on the play. Jones got two bases on his knock to Hartman. Smith was run down between third and home. Farrell stopped Doyle's rap and got it off first in time.

(Special to The Evening World.)
MORRIS PARK RACE TRACK, N. Y., May 14.—Though there was only one stake on the card this afternoon the programme was very attractive and gave the public abundant opportunity for speculation. This is what the people want more than anything else. Speculation is the spice of the game. Take away the seasoning and the palate would be hard to please.
The weather was beautiful, the track was fast and there was no condition lacking to complete the race-goer's cup of happiness. The attendance was the heaviest of the week, the crowd finding the attractions of the afternoon hard to resist.
